

The Telegraph

Upgrade your home in 2021 with these five breakout designers

Reviving historical residences and bringing colour to English countryside homes, these are the designers ahead of the curve

By Jessica Doyle

10 January 2021 · 7:00am

Laura Gonzalez

Also launching a new furniture line is the French designer Laura Gonzalez, known for creating the interiors of some of Paris's most stylish restaurants and boutiques.

De Gournay hand painted 'Golden Hour' design by Laura Gonzalez

Her latest collection is a mix of sophisticated country-house style - think patterned cushions, lacquered chairs colourful lamps - and sleek 70s-style glam, with supersize Pierre Frey-upholstered sofas, marble tables and sculptural lighting (available via The Invisible Collection). Along with several high-end private homes, Interior-design projects due to open this year include the Saint-James Hotel and Le Petit Victor Hugo restaurant in Paris, and the Arts Club in London.